

INTERNATIONAL CHILDREN'S DAY 2018

Christine Revell Children's Home, Athlone

This year the Centre for Early Childhood Development celebrated International Children's Day by hosting a party with the children from Christine Revell Children's Home in Athlone, on Friday 01 June 2018.

International Children's Day is a day dedicated to raising awareness about child rights and well-being, and is celebrated annually on 01 June. This year, CECD was privileged to celebrate this important day with the young children at Christine Revell Children's Home. The day was filled with fun activities including a jumping castle, face painting, play dough activities, an area with soft toys and a bubble machine. The children embraced the activities and the little ones had fun trying to pop the bubbles!

Play is a crucial part of children's early development and the aim of the event was to celebrate these special children.

Children were gifted with a party pack as well as an age-appropriate South African book, courtesy of Book Dash.

We would like to thank Christine Revell Children's Home and most importantly, the young children who enthusiastically took part in the festivities!
